Quarterly Conference Well Attended

The regular session of the Quarterly Conference was held Saturday evening and all day Sunday, with good attendances at each meeting. Elder Geo. F. Richards of the Quorum of the Twelve was in Attendance representing the General authorities and was a speaker at each meeting. Pres. Allen took charge of all of the meetings, except the Sunday evening meeting which was conducted by Paul Dahl of the Stake Y. M. M. I. A. Superintendency.

It was a Priesthood Convention Conference, and most of the various quorums and the efforts being made to extend the benefit and effect of the work. The speakers at the Saturday evening meeting were Pres. Allen who reported on the conditions in the Stake, John F. Salmon and E. B. Rolfsen, who spoke representing the High Priests Quorum, I. B. Roberts, speaking for the Seventies of the Stake, and Elder Richards, who spoke on the purpose of Priesthood Conventions, and named two, namely to stimulate activity in the building up of the work of the Church. He spoke of the power of the Priesthood, and of its necessity in performing the ordinances in the Gospel. Spoke of the study periods for the various quorums, the need for missionary work, and urged the men who held the Priesthood, to warn their neighbors, and never lose an opportunity to warn his neighbors and scatter tracts and books to those who do not understand the message of the Gospel.

SUNDAY MORNING

The first speaker Sunday morning, was Pres. J. W. Evans who spoke of the place and influence of the Primary, Sunday School, Mutual and Priesthood Quorums in the lives of the boys, and the various qualifications for promotion from one class to the next.

An Aaronic Priesthood Chorus from the Raymond 1st Ward sang a number.

"What to do to increase the Efficiency of Our Sacrament Meetings," was treated by Grant Speckman, a Deacon; Garth Galbraith, a Teacher; Jack Coombs, a Priest; and H. Dean Rolfsen, an Elder.

Elder Weldon Bascom spoke on the "Significance of Priesthood," followed by Jas. S. Anderson, on "Obligations of the Seventy as Missionaries, both at home and abroad."

A Male Chorus sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and an Aaronic Priesthood Chorus from the Raymond Second Ward also sang a number.

Elder Richards recited the poem "Loyalty" and told the children several stories, which they greatly enjoyed. He encouraged the children to go to Sunday School, neat and clean so the spirit of the Lord would be pleased to dwell with us, and said the most important thing in all our religious assemblies was to go with the proper spirit.

A Male Chorus sang "See the Mighty Angel Flying as the closing number."

SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Stake Choir was present with C. F. Tollestrup in charge, and Messrs. Henderson, Murray, Laycock and son of Lethbridge and P. H. Redd were assisting with their instruments in the Choir numbers and solos.

Opening Song—"The Spirit of God Like a Fire is Burning."

Invocation—Patriarch Levi Barker.

Choir Anthem—"Rouse O Ye Mortals."

Pres. O. H. Snow read the minutes of the General and Stake authorities for the vote of the people, and spoke briefly reading from the Doctrine and Covenants to show the calamities that are to come to the earth, and of our responsibility in crying repentance to the world.

Pres. Allen spoke a few minutes and repeated some of the advice given at the recent General Conference, particularly in regard to playing square and honest with those we owe.

Elder Richards, stated that our business was to serve God and keep his commandments, and that everything else was secondary. Spoke of the need of tithing in the Church at present, and urged everyone to be honest in this regard and merit the blessings of the Lord. Stating that we must all be tried, he cited the example of Job, and the tribulations that the Lord suffered to come upon him in order to prove him.

SUNDAY EVENING

Those who attended the Sunday evening meeting were treated to a real delightful program of singing and speaking.

A Ladies Quartette from Stirling sang "The Rosary."

Elder Melvin T. King gave a very straight and thought-provoking talk on the danger of being mentally unemployed, & stated that while the physical unemployment in the world today was serious, the mental unemployment was much more widespread and more disastrous.

Messrs. Murry and Henderson of Lethbridge, played two Violin and Cello duets.

Ira McBride sang a Vocal Solo, accompanied by the Orchestra.

A Male Quartette from the Wellington ward sang a number.

Elder Richards gave a splendid talk on "Marriages" and stressed the benefits of being married in the Temples for time and all eternity. Marriage he said, should produce happiness, and when it does not, of course there is disappointment. Marriage lengthens life, according to statistics, and if we want to live long we should find a mate whom we understand and get married right.

NAVY LEAGUE DOES VALUABLE WORK

Rallying to support the Navy League of Canada in its work of assisting widows and orphans of men of the merchant marine service, Raymond citizens subscribed $15.00 to this cause in a recent campaign here conducted by Freg Cooke, organizer of the Alberta Division.

The Sailor Magazine, published Quarterly, may be obtained by the payment of $1.00 per annum, in addition to your donation to our funds. The regular fee for the magazine is $2 per annum.

Any further contributions may be sent to Fred Cooke, 1107-15th Ave. West, Calgary.

"M" MEN AND GLEANER BALL GREAT SUCCESS

Last Friday night the Second Ward Amusement Hall was the scene of a most enjoyable Hallows'even Novelty Ball. Entrance into the dancing floor was made through a haunted room, containing ghosts, coffins, and the devil himself followed one about.

The hall was charmingly decorated with black cats, bats, Jack-O-Lanterns, etc., and the Man in the Moon himself was there in his new "Sunday Suit."

Many out of town guests were present and all in all it was a great success socially, as well as financially for the Second Ward Gleaners, and "M" Men.

The proceeds will go for the interior equipment of the Second Ward Gym.

Remembrance Day

(By Dr. Leech)

On this the 15th. anniversary of the signing of the armistice, which ended the greatest war of all history. A war unequalled for the number of nations involved in it. A war unequalled for the number of men and women who took part in it. A war unequalled for human carnage and a war unequalled for heroism and sacrifice. God grant that it may never come again.

600,000 Canadians took up arms in defence of their country. Our casualties were 220,000. 63,000 of our comrades lie beneath the white crosses in soil consecrated by their own blood. No words can express our admiration for this valor, no words can express our gratitude for their sacrifice. To us they have charged the responsibility of making this Canada of ours worthy of their sacrifice. May we never fail to defend those principles for which they gave their lives. They lived for us, they fought for us, and they died for us. Their souls have gone to the land of peace. They cannot hear our praises of their valor. They cannot sense our sorrow. They cannot see the memorials we have erected to their memory. These men heroic in action, courageous in defeat, faithful in service were glorious in death. The home land was their last conscious thought.

They died to give us peace and our charge is to perpetuate that peace which they bought with their own blood. But to the sorrowing hearts, which time can never heal we speak from sympathetic hearts, words of comfort and encouragement and pray that God, who gave us victory will give them faith and comfort and console them in their sorrow.

If we are true to our trust this sacrifice will not have been in vain. Let us reconsecrate ourselves to the task of making Canada all that they hoped it to be. In this great crisis of social and political upheaval. May our patriotism and love of country eliminate party bickering, and bring us together in solid union, as we did before, and again triumph over threatening disaster, believing and living up to our Canadian creed.

MY CREED

I believe in Canada
I love her as my home.
I honour her institutions.
I rejoice in the abundance of her resources.
I glory in the record of her achievements.
I have unbounded confidence in the ability of her people to excel in whatsoever they undertake.
I cherish exalted ideals of her destiny as a leader among nations.
To her I pledge my loyalty.
To the promotion of her best interests
I pledge my support.
To her products I pledge my patronage.
And to the cause of her producers
I pledge my devotion.

News Notes

PREVIEW—"THE BOWERY" Friday—10:30 P.M.

Armistice Day will be Saturday and all Stores and offices in town will be closed all day. Shop accordingly.

Messrs. G. G. Coote and E. J. Garland, Dominion M. P.'s will speak in the Town Hall tonight at 8 p.m. at a meeting to which the public is invited.

GEO. ARLISS in "KINGS VACATION" Saturday starting at 6 P.M.

After a balmy Chinook on Sunday, a little more snow fell during the night, but Monday was bright, clear and mild.

Mr. Humphries, of the Renfrew Co., has spent the past 2 weeks or so here with the local Renfrew agent, Mr. J. D. Hall.

School closed last night, so the Teachers could attend the Convention in Lethbridge today and tomorrow. Practically 100 per cent. of Raymond teachers attended.

The 2nd Ward Gleaners and "M" Men made merry in an interesting party Tuesday evening when mixing games and dancing were enjoyed by all, under the management of Miss Wyora Scoville and Floyd Larson. A delicious luncheon of pie ala mode, hot cocoa and hamburgers was served.

GEO. ARLISS in "KINGS VACATION" Saturday starting at 6 P.M.

Sleighs were the popular mode of travel over the week-end, as off the gravel there were no car roads.

After chilly weather Wednesday, a nice Chinook is working today. We are having a great variety of weather.

The beet harvest is rapidly nearing completion and a few more days will see all the roots out of the ground.

Shifts at the Factory, changed over the week-end, and the crew is now getting accustomed to a new time-table of sleeping and eating.

PREVIEW—"THE BOWERY" Friday—10:30 P.M.

Lawrence McNaughton and Orson Daines of Cardston, were the dinner guests of Messrs. Lenoire and Wyora Scoville at the home of their parents Sunday.

The Sugar City Motors have recently installed a large furnace, which keeps the garage nice and warm, and they are catering to motorists for warm and safe storage.

Byron Wall is busy these days with a series of experiments in making a cigarette extinguisher. He has sold his patents on the automatic ash tray and his work making a cigarette extinguisher, like he will have another patent to sell before long.

Board of Trade Meeting Held

Harris Walker To Coach Team

(By F. Howard Forsyth)

Harris Walker has been chosen to coach one of the best basketball teams in Provo, the Men's "M" Men team, his work to begin as soon as the season gets under way, it was learned recently.

The Men's "M" Men are conceded an excellent chance to win the L.D.S. Church final championship this year. Last year the team lost the Utah Stake championship in Provo only after trying the winning team. As the team is much stronger this year, Harris may push the boys through to win the Stake championship, and take the Salt Lake City for the finals. Last year a California team won the "M" Men basketball honors.

Parent Teachers Organization Effectuated

With a view to better understanding and more co-operation between parents, pupils and teachers in our schools, a Parent-Teachers Association was effectuated in a meeting held in the Capitol Theatre last Saturday afternoon, which was sponsored by the U. I. W. A., at which Mrs. M. R. Wood is President.

Virginia Zeb-Like was elected with a residing. Paul H. Redd was chosen temporary Chairman of the meeting, and he explained the purpose of the organization and outlined until a further meeting was held when the new officers took the platform.

Mrs. Pearl Keith was chosen President, with Mrs. Byron Wall as Vice-President, and Milo Vance as Secretary. The meeting adjourned at 7:15 p.m.

WELLING

"Will you get all our best up?" is the thought of many of the farmers. Since the last snowfall it still looks as if they will be a while longer at their harvesting.

Mrs. Sterling Williams of Cardston and sons Ora and Young were Sunday visitors at the Teachers. They took Captain, Dr. Williams' daughter back with them.

Many attended Priesthood Meeting despite the rainy roads. They find they received many wonderful and timely instructions there.

The Mutual lessons are being enjoyed very much. The discussion of every day problems are of interest to all.

Primary began with a Social under the auspices of the Nat. Superintendency. A keen enthusiasm was shown by the children. Hallows'even pranks were few on account of the storm during the day.

The Relief Society held a Work and Business Meeting. A quilt was made.

On Friday an interesting program was given by the Senior Room. The program consisted of Opening Song by School—O Canada; Song—High School; dialogue—Maria Erickson, Bettie Seward; Melba Wilde, Vaylatia Peterson; duet—Melba and LeRoy Wilde; recitation—Vaylatia Peterson; harmonica solo—Elmer White; story—Andrew Erickson; dialogue—Maxine and Kay Bullock; quartette—Esie, Vaylatia and Eldon Peterson and Karl Williams; oral experience—Parley Brown; story—Emil Seward; jokes—Melvin Pickett and Leonard Flexhaug; song—Hubert Seward; dialogue—Glen na Foote, Carrel Wilde, Gladys Flexhaug; harmonica solo—Eldon Peterson; story—Rosie Mohr; play—Grade VI; song—Mr. and Mrs. Williams. Closing song—God Save the King. Prayers and benediction were served.

A short Board of Trade meeting was held in the Town Hall Monday evening, beginning the winter activities of this organization. Pres. T. Geo. Wood was in the Chair and a good representation of members was present.

The minutes of the last meeting in July were read and approved, and the correspondence that had accumulated was disposed of.

The President spoke of the serious illness of Mr. T. O'Brien, a faithful member of the Board of Trade, and it was decided to send him a bouquet of flowers from the Board of Trade and to write him a letter of sympathy and condolence in his affliction.

Chas. O. Asplund, Chairman of the Program Committee, stated that an endeavor would be made to have Mr. G. G. Coote, Federal M.P. for the Macleod riding, here for the December meeting, and have him address the Board on the Money question of the Day. In the event of Mr. Coote coming, a larger hall will be arranged for, and it will be made a public meeting for everyone.

The Town Council were commended for erecting the dead man at the intersection of the roads, and for the road work that had been done before the freeze up. It was pointed out by the Mayor that the dead man was to be painted and reflectors placed on it to make it easily seen, and to serve as a traffic guide in the town.

Dr. Leech spoke in behalf of the Raymond A.A.A. explaining their program for the winter and enlisting the support of the Board as individuals and as an organization to the sports program of the winter season.

The meeting adjourned at 7:15 p.m.

CANADIAN BOYS DO WELL IN MEET

(By Howard Forsyth)

Harris Walker of Raymond, and Jerome Platt of Brant, Alberta, literally walked over the other non-letter man athletes at Brigham Young University's annual fall meet at Provo, Utah October 27 and 28. Harris was high point man of the meet, and Jerome was second.

Jerome won three first single-handed, and participated in two winning relay teams, while Harris took single-handed, four firsts and a number of seconds and thirds, and was anchor man on two winning relays. Howard Forsythe of Cardston, and Shirley King of Raymond also ran on winning teams.

Platt was the surprise of the meet, winning the mile, half mile and 220 dash against stiff competition from Max Andrews of Provo, who beat the Canadian at a meet earlier in the season in the two and a half mile event. Mennell Taylor of Mexico also ran Platt hard. Walker won his best points in the dashes but took some sort of place in almost every event in the meet.

dialogue—Maxine and Kay Bullock; quartette—Esie, Vaylatia and Eldon Peterson and Karl Williams; oral experience—Parley Brown; story—Emil Seward; jokes—Melvin Pickett and Leonard Flexhaug; song—Hubert Seward; dialogue—Glen na Foote, Carrel Wilde, Gladys Flexhaug; harmonica solo—Eldon Peterson; story—Rosie Mohr; play—Grade VI; song—Mr. and Mrs. Williams. ARMISTICE DAY

On Saturday, we commemorate the signing of the Armistice which caused the cessation of hostilities in the World War, the greatest conflict history has ever recorded, and a conflict that has left its mark on humanity ever since. We who look from the distance can visualize but vaguely what conditions really were, and what the boys and men who carried the burden for us really went through to make the world safe for civilization and progress.

Looking back over 15 years since the smoke and fire died down, the world has witnessed the greatest strides in progress that has ever been known. Science, in its multifarious branches has unfolded to man as an open book, until today, what is new and startling one day is commonplace, and in cases almost forgotten tomorrow. The things we consider commonplace were miracles at the close of the war, and the conquest is still marching on.

If it took the price of the hundreds of thousands of fathers, husbands and brothers, who sacrificed their lives in the Great War, to prepare the world for this great flood of light and knowledge, perhaps they did not die in vain. However, if we use this power of intelligence as an agent of destruction to bring more suffering and heartache in to the world then indeed are we turning traitor to those who gave their all for mankind. Our opportunities, and possibilities are too great to be wasted for things that can have no ultimate in the further advancement of peace, happiness and prosperity for the children of men.

On Armistice Day, let us think of the sacrifice of those who lie in Flanders Fields, also those who are going through life with a maimed and broken body as a result of their part in the fray, and of the tens of thousands, who are living with the memories, pleasant or otherwise, of the things they experienced to make the world safe for democracy. Armistice or Remembrance Day should be a time to stop and consider our part in the drama of life, and see to it that we are doing nothing to make the sacrifice of "Our Boys" useless and of no avail.

SUPPORT THE A.A.A.

This year, the local A.A.A. is undertaking a real ambitious program of sports, for everyone in the Town, and the organization deserves the wholehearted support of every citizen in the town to put it over.

Arrangements are just about completed whereby the A.A.A. will take over the Opera House, back, stock and barrel, for the next six months, and operate as a Gymnasium for the town, assuming all expenses, and dividing the surplus at the end of the season, on a 50-50 basis with the trustees of the Opera House.

As a preliminary to the winter's work, they have received permission, and have agreed to take out the present balcony, and remodel the floor, so that we will have a regulation basketball floor, in the town, and then when our teams reach the Dominion and Provincial play-offs, as they usually do, it will not be essential to go away from home to play these games. There is no doubt but that our Jacks have lost several Dominion championships, because they were forced to play all their final games away from home, and on strange floors. The present plans will eliminate this.

A membership drive is getting under way now, and the fee is still held to the $1 mark, in the hope that enough tickets will be sold to enable the association to carry on and provide every one who so desires with an opportunity of self-expression in the field of athletics.

Volley ball, indoor tennis, badminton, boxing, wrestling and many other lines of sport will be featured, and time-tables will be drawn up and strictly abided by, so that every one will have their opportunity, without interruption or interference, providing they work to time.

Come on now folks, dig down and get that dollar ready, it will pinch a little maybe, but we will get over it, and we have a chance now to show how loyal we are to the men and women who are trying to put our town on the map and keep it there. Let's put it over right.

BUT TO IMPROVE DEMOCRACY

(Christian Science Monitor)

Never since the time of Oliver Cromwell has there been so much talk about "dictatorship" among Englishmen as there is today. Then it was a term of reproach, and discussion was secret. Now it receives the utmost publicity, and the word is not always used with sinister meaning.

There has been talk of dictatorship of the Left and dictatorship of the Right. Those who have no good word for a Lenin or a Stalin can find much to praise in the methods of a Mussolini; and some who denounce Mussolini as the enemy of the working classes are prepared to say that the main defect of the Soviet dictatorship lies in the Russian character rather than in the system. Mustafa Kemal, the dictator of Turkey, has been praised as the regenerator of his country; and it has been suggested that the completeness of President Roosevelt's success may depend to no small extent on the completeness of his dictatorship.

The British Fascists, until recently, have not been treated very seriously by the majority of Englishmen. But they have acquired a new importance since there has been talk of a dictatorship of the Left. For to talk in terms of revolution is the surest way of provoking counter-revolution — would-be Fascist dictators become formidable only when there is believed to be real danger of Socialist dictatorship.

Is there anything serious in this talk or is it purely academic? It is pertinent to recall that the parliamentary system, with its parties and its constitutional checks, has been the slow creation of the British nation. It has not been suddenly adopted, as elsewhere, after a revolution, but has been the steady growth of centuries. It might perhaps be spoken of as the natural expression of the English political genius. Yet it is worth remembering that at a time when the British system was still the admired model of all young democracies and of all countries which were aspiring toward democracy, it was already being severely criticized in the home of its origin, in Britain itself. A quarter of a century ago there was a strong body of British opinion which denounced the "party system" as a system of "ins" and "outs," checks and counter-checks, which tended to paralyze progress, and substitute the illusion for the reality of freedom.

In more recent years, but before there was any thought of a National Socialist movement in Germany, Mr. Winston Churchill declared the necessity of a radical change in parliamentary procedure to enable the country to cope with the growing arrears of reform. Even that great democrat, Mr. Lloyd George, emphatically urged the need of more speed and efficiency in procedure. It seemed at one time that the parliamentary system received more searching and even more destructive criticism from British democrats than from any liberally minded critics in any other country.

From this it might be supposed that England presents very favorable ground for Fascist propaganda. But in fact this does not appear to be the case. The talk about dictatorship — inevitable in the present state of the world — has occurred, and has been eagerly debated. But the examples of other countries in breaking away from democratic government have generally had the effect, not of creating a desire to follow them, but of restoring the waning belief in the efficacy of the British system.

The English people in the past were more devoted to the ideal of tolerance and free speech than to that of administrative efficiency; and today they are as disinclined as ever to sacrifice the first to the second. The Fascist challenge to their instinctive and traditional view has had the effect of rallying them to the support of a system which, after all, is essentially British. We see this, not merely in the attitude of Conservatives and Liberals, but even of the official Labor Party, which has resisted the appeal to form a common Socialist front and has declared its continued faith in constitutional democracy.

The Labor view in this matter represents the average English view — that a dictatorship of the Left is as bad as a dictatorship of the Right, and vice versa — and that the remedy for inefficiency lies, not in overthrowing democracy, but in improving and completing it.

FALL MENUS

(By Barbara B. Brooks)

Summer with its abundance of fruit and vegetables, rather spoils us for the rest of the year. Now that fall is here, more time has to be spent planning meals which will have variety, either through the use of many different foods or by serving the usual foods in different ways.

One of the most attractive vegetable platters that we have ever seen was revealed by a French housewife. She stuffed peppers, tomatoes and cabbage leaves with a meat and cereal mixture; put them alternately into a kettle, added tomato sauce, covered the pot and let them simmer until tender. The peppers can be parboiled before being stuffed. The cabbage leaves are dipped in boiling water, stuffed, rolled up and fastened with small wooden skewers.

STUFFED VEGETABLES
3 cups left-over meat (ground)
1 onion (finely chopped)
1 cup rice krispies
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup tomato pulp
3 green peppers
3 tomatoes
3 cabbage leaves
Mix meat, onion, rice krispies, salt and pepper. Moisten with tomato pulp. Stuff the vegetables, place in kettle, add tomato sauce, cover and cook until tender.

TOMATO SAUCE
2 tbsps. butter or oil
1 tsp. onion (finely chopped)
2 tbsps. celery (finely chopped)
1 tsp. green pepper (finely chopped)
1 No. 2 can tomatoes (2 cups)
1/2 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 tsp. sugar
Cook onion, celery and green peppers in butter or oil until tender but not brown. Add tomatoes and seasonings. Cook stirring occasionally until the water from the tomatoes has evaporated and the sauce is slightly thickened.

Some people are afraid to use garlic, but it is a seasoning which raises uninteresting dishes out of the ordinary class. Try it with this spinach recipe.

NOVEL SPINACH
4 tbsps. butter
1/4 lb. mushrooms (sliced)
1/2 clove garlic

ALBERTA NEWS BULLETIN DID YOU EVER

STOP TO THINK

Issued by Publicity Commission
er, Government Buildings,
Edmonton, Saturday,
November 4, 1933.

By Edson R. Waite
Shawnee, Oklahoma

THOUSANDS VISIT ALBERTA'S PARKS

More than 175,000 visitors practically all in autos, registered at four of Alberta's famous national parks during the past tourist season, according to figures just made known. The exact figures for the Banff, Jasper, Waterton Lakes and Elk Island parks was 177,274, which does not include many who went to the mountain resorts by train. Alberta's national parks, comprising more than 8,000 square miles of mountain and lake territory, are among the province's greatest assets, and attract tourists annually from many points on the continent, as well as thousands from the cities and towns of the province itself.

Through the two Alberta ports of entry from United States Carway and Conits, nearly 10,000 American autos registered in, carrying more than 30,000 passengers, while many others came into the province by way of the bordering Canadian provinces.

DISTRIBUTION OF NURSERY STOCK

The provincial forest service branch is making arrangements for distribution amongst farmers, schools and other institutions on a similar basis as last year of seedlings of spruce, lodge pole pine, etc., from stock propagated at the nurseries at Oliver near Edmonton. This stock will be distributed on applications received up to January 1st next. Last year a considerable distribution was made of spruce and pine seedlings to many farmers, schools, and communities in the province. Next spring there will be considerable stock of white spruce and lodge pole pine for distribution as well as some jack pine, Siberian lodge, green ash and elm.

GOOD HONEY CROP

Honey was a good crop in Southern Alberta the past season, one large commercial firm taking off some 120 tons and another individual operator taking off about 60 tons. The total honey crop is expected to be somewhat larger than last year.

ALBERTA'S WOOL CLIP

Wool clip in Alberta during the past season has been estimated at approximately 3,400,000 lbs. A slight increase over the previous year.

JUNIOR LIVE STOCK TEAMS FOR TORONTO

Selection of the three teams who will represent the junior live stock clubs of the province in the national judging contest at Toronto this month, was completed Wednesday, in the elimination contest. In the swine club contest, with 13 teams competing, the winners were Clair Dunbar and Lester Faulkner, of the Liberty club, west of Leduc, coached by G. Black supervisor of club work in the province. The team had 679 marks out of a possible 800. In the dairy calf club work, with three teams competing, the winners were Tom Clarke and Delbert Levagood, of Didsbury, W. J. Elliott, of the provincial department of agriculture, coaching. The team secured 691 marks out of 850. In the beef calf club work with 12 teams competing, the winners were Joseph Kipl and H. K. Morn of To-field, coached by F. H. Newcombe, district agriculturist at Vegreville. The marks for this team were 730 out of a possible 850. Some 24 teams in all competed in the elimination contests.

Oscar Dimes, Jr. of Cardston, spent Sunday in Raymond with friends.

IT FITS US TOO!

The editor of a country weekly retired with a fortune. When asked the secret of his success he replied:

"I attribute my ability to retire with a $100,000 bank balance, after 40 years in the news paper field, to close application to duty, pursuing a policy of strict honesty, always practicing rigorous rules of economy, and to the recent death of my uncle, who left me $99,500."

THAT when you buy all you buy in the city in which you live, you benefit and so does the home city. Therefore, it is easy to see that only foolish people spend their money away from home.

Some people never seriously attempt to learn anything about the business concerns of their home city and permit themselves to go along with a mistaken idea that their city can progress without business. It can't be done, and the sooner they realize this fact the sooner their city will grow to be a better place in which to live and make a living.

A dam of education should be erected to stop the flow of money that is made in a city and allowed to flow to other cities at the expense of the home city.

EVERY EFFORT SHOULD BE MADE TO DIVERT THIS MONEY BACK INTO THE RIGHT CHANNEL SO IT WILL BE SPENT AT HOME WHERE IT WILL DO CONSTRUCTIVE WORK AND BENEFIT ALL.

HEALTH

CARING FOR TEETH

Stop, look and read if you are young and you want to preserve the natural, youthful appearance of your face and, at the same time, enjoy the comfort and health which come with a healthy mouth containing sound teeth.

The food you eat builds your teeth. You cannot have well-built teeth unless you use milk, green vegetables and fresh fruits during that period of life when the body is building the teeth out of the foods which are eaten.

Teeth are required to chew food and so prepare it for digestion. Foods which require chewing should be included in the diet, because the act of chewing develops the jaws properly and helps to keep the teeth and gums healthy.

In order that the teeth and gums may be kept healthy, they should be kept clean. It is best to clean them after every meal, but they should at least be cleaned after breakfast and before going to bed, using a tooth-brush and a little salt and water, or a non-gritty powder or paste. The mouth should be rinsed after the teeth have been brushed.

The dentist should be visited twice a year so that the teeth may be cleaned and to secure the early treatment of any decay. Early treatment stops further decay, preserves the teeth, and prevents the pain and discomfort which would otherwise occur.

Unless the teeth and gums are cared for, they may become diseased as the result of germs settling up an infection. What is serious about such infection is not so much the damage that may be caused locally, although that is bad enough, but rather that the infection may spread to other parts of the body and cause serious harm to vital organs.

Many people do not enjoy the degree of health which they should because their health is being sapped by diseased teeth and gums. It may be that the food is not properly chewed and thus digestion is interfered with. The absorption of poisons may be poisoning the body. Painful teeth cause lack of sleep, and lead to irritability.

Good teeth are an asset to the personal appearance, but much more important is their influence upon the health of the body. Care of the teeth in early life secure these advantages for the later years. Early neglect cannot be offset by later care. It is better to act now rather than suffer regrets in the years to come.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St., Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

THE PRINTER'S DEVIL

Figures that the week's snow storm was a good one, but it had nothing on the Showers.

Sees that even the Calgary Herald admits the Bennett Government doesn't please, after hearing the bye-election results.

Says "One reason we run after pleasure so feverishly is to drown the voice of conscience, which is God speaking to us about the folks He so wants us to be."

A newspaper publisher offered a prize for the best answer to the conundrum: "Why is a newspaper like a woman?" The prize was won by a woman, who sent in this answer: "Because every man should have one of his own & not run after his neighbors."

Says, call a girl a chicken and she cackles; call a woman a hen and she lays for you.

"No," said the manager, "the beef's tough."

The weather was nice on Friday and Saturday last, but the going was bad, even on foot, because of the profusion of nice soft, gooey mud.

The home of Mrs. J. Hervey was the scene of nicely arranged tea and social hour, when the Ladies Aid and the Sunday School of St. Andrew's, met in honor of Mrs. Ross Gibb, and presented her with a beautiful bridge lamp in appreciation of her services.

Jack Melhew and his truck had a hair-raising experience on Saturday night last. When returning from Lethbridge with a load of coal, the feed line choked off just before they reached the top of the Nine Mile hill, and they had to back down to the bottom to fix it. "Jack" says the hill is long enough if you can see where you are going, but to back down it, seems too far to be funny.

Mrs. R. A. VanOrman is home after an extended visit to Utah. She came by car with some of the children, and two of the girls stayed at the line, while the others brought Mrs. VanOrman home, and returned. They could have entered Canada alright, but may not have been able to get back to their families and homes, so they played safe, despite the keen disappointment they felt.

KELLOGG COMPANY OF CANADA LIMITED, LONDON, ONTARIO, ANNOUNCES A NEW BUILDING PROGRAMME

Continuing a building programme which has been in progress for 4 years, the Kellogg Company of Canada Limited announced today that construction would start at once on a new four storey building, size approximately 96 ft. by 102 ft.

The exterior of the new building will conform with the present Dundas Street frontage—extending to the west of the present plant 102 ft.

Property has been purchased to accommodate the new building.

The addition will be principally used for warehousing of finished case goods and raw materials as well as accommodation for the general executive and office organization.

This new building will also allow for the reconstruction of a new packing room and better arrangement of packing machinery—giving the Kellogg Company one of the most up-to-date packing plants in the world.

Albert Kahn Limited of Warkerville, Ontario, is the architect.

J. H. KRAFT, VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE KRAFT-PHENIX CHEESE CORPORATION, SAYS:

"The milk crop of the United States is the only year-round cash crop the farmer has, and the only crop that pays him a check every week, fifty-two weeks out of the year, regardless of the weather."

"As an industry, dairying in this country has developed faster in the past twenty-five years than most agriculture industries have in the past hundred years. Scientific control of milk production, the building up of superior herds, the cooperation of farmers in dairy programs are proof that the dairy farmer today is one of America's most alert business men, with an eye to the future."

"During recent years dairying and cheesemaking have become our largest national industry. The national income from cheesemaking alone was more than $100,000,000 last year. To day there are more than 30 states in addition to Wisconsin and New York in which cheesemaking is a important industry and provides a substantial cash market to dairy farmers. "The South, long regarded as the nation's most conservative agricultural section, has in ten years time taken lengthy strides in the building up of the dairy industry."

"The recent opening of a great model cheesemaking plant at Shawnee, Oklahoma, is significant. The first can of milk was brought in to the factory by plane, and cheese production began with the dedication ceremonies. The official opening was the occasion of celebration on the part of the business and farm community for many miles around. And well it might be."

"What this plant—and plants like it all over the country mean to the farmer, to the dairy industry, and to agriculture as a whole, should be recognized by every milk-producer and consumer in America. It indicates, first of all, that the farmers of the country have become
